INVESTIGATION BY GRAND JURY, NEXT PLAN OF SEVERSON

PUBLIC ASKING PROBE BE PUSHED, SAYS SENATOR.

HELP IS OFFERED

Former Official Says He Has Facts Which Would Mean Impeachment of Two.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) Madison—Senator H. J. Severson, author of the resolution calling for an investigation into charges of malfeasance on the part of state officials, announced Friday that the fact the senate yesterday killed his proposal is not a defeat, but a means of his efforts to have an inquiry.

"We are not through with this matter," he said. "At present our plans are directed toward consideration of a grand jury investigation that should develop. The act of the upper house in refusing to take the bill off of affairs here, on the ground that it did not know where this investigation would lead, is not a means of a discontinuance of our efforts."

The senator declared he was receiving telegrams from over the state asking that he push his inquiry despite the senate stand. He said one man, who signed himself "A Former Official," had written saying he could furnish information that would afford ground for impeachment proceedings against two officials.

The upper house killed the Severson resolution on the ground that it did not state specific grounds for investigation.

GOV. PINCHOT IS FIRM FOR ENFORCEMENT

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) Harrisburg, Pa.—Although disappointed at the failure of the general assembly to provide $100,000 as a special fund for law enforcement, particularly the prohibition law, Gov. The money for its enforcement, administrative expenses, would be found in some other way and the governor's program carried out. The fight over the enforcement of the prohibition law, which was the subject of the general assembly last night when the lower house refused to agree to the appropriation and the bill was returned to the senate.

ANGLO-RUSS CRISIS PAST

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) Moscow—Lord Curzon's reply to the last Russian note covering the points in controversy between the two nations is considered in official circles as eliminating the possibility of a break with England. The meaning of the note is not exactly clear to the Russians and they have asked Leonid Krassin, their representative in London, to explain certain parts of it before finally deciding upon its acceptance. The passing of this crisis, together with the movement toward rapprochement with Japan, has had a cheering effect here, said Russian publicists, and said Russia's position in the far east was improving.

HOPES TO CAPTURE BIG DOUBTFUL TERRITORY DURING TRIP.

FRIENDS CERTAIN

Believe Any Opposition to Renomination Will Not be Effective.

(BY DAVID LAWRENCE Copyright, 1923, Janesville Daily Gazette.)

Washington—President Harding is preparing in advance many of the speeches he is to deliver on his western trip, and there is plenty of advice being volunteered as to what he should say and how he ought to say it.

All of the presidential contingent hereabouts, which includes not only persons in official life but the political advisers high in the councils of the republican party, look upon the western trip as an affair of paramount political importance. The president himself has tried to keep his trip and speeches on a nonpartisan basis, but the talk in Washington constantly is of the effects of the journey on the possible renomination and re-election of Mr. Harding.

Confident Feeling Right now the feeling inside the presidential circle is one of confidence. A few days ago one or two men in the group of a betting disposition wagered $5,000 that Harding would be renominated and re-elected. Somebody in New York took the other end of the bet at even money. It is a small incident but it does illustrate how some of the president's friends feel about the outcome.

Surprisingly enough much of the confidence about the Harding success of President Harding is based on a belief that the opposition to him will not be effective. Republicans watch the situation and make their own analysis, and while the odds may be (Continued On Page 2)

MURDERER OF TWO HANGED IN CHICAGO

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) Chicago—Caspar Pastori was hanged here Friday for slaying a woman and her child. The trap was sprung in the Cook county jail at 7:08 a. m.

The condemned man went to the gallows with a calm resignation, after a night of sound sleep. "Crying won't save me from the noose, so I might as well die smiling," said Pastori.

Last minute efforts of his attorneys to appeal to Governor Small for a stay of execution failed when Pastori was unable to raise traveling expenses to Springfield for his counsel.

Pastori was convicted of the murder of Mrs. Elizabeth Wittich and her child. It was said he shot them both in the back after the woman had spurned his advances, though he maintained his innocence to the last. Immediately after the double slaying he attempted to kill himself.

STAMBOULISKY IS SLAIN TRYING TO ESCAPE CAPTORS

RESISTANCE WEAKENS IN FACE OF ASSAULTS BY REBELS.

PLOT IS CHARGED

Coup of Ex-Prime Minister to Dethrone Monarch Told in Papers.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) Sofia—Former Premier Stamboulisky of Bulgaria has been killed while trying to escape.

The end of the peasant leader's career follows a series of dramatic developments beginning with the overthrow of his government in the early hours of last Saturday and the formation of a coalition government including all the opposition parties with the exception of the communists.

As soon as Stamboulisky became aware of the successful coup d'etat, he fled toward the mountains of central Bulgaria, shaving off his mustache and disguising himself as an army chauffeur. He was deserted by most of his followers, only four being with him when he arrived at Pridon on his way to Belshitz.

The pursuing troops of the new government overtook the party at Pridon, but Stamboulisky escaped into the forest during the fighting, in which his four followers were overcome.

He could not long elude the large force seeking him, however, and he was captured Thursday at Molav, a village near Slavoviza.

CAPTURE IS CONFIRMED

BADGER SPECIAL TO BOOST STOCK

Demonstration Train Leaves for Western Tour from West Bend.

Madison.—Blazing the trail for the dairy pail, Wisconsin's Dairy Special will start soon on its journey through the Northwest. The demonstration train is scheduled to leave West Bend on June 16.

Many prominent dairymen are to make the trip. The speakers include: Karl Huser, secretary of the American Guernsey Cattle Club; C. L. Burlington, secretary of the Ayrshire Breeders' Association; J. C. McDowell of the Dairy Division of the United States Department of Agriculture; a field man from the American Jersey Cattle Club; J. C. Robinson, president of the Wisconsin Livestock Breeders' association; and J. L. Olmstead, secretary of the Wisconsin Holstein-Friesian Breeding association.

Will Show Movies
W. A. Duffee, Barron county, is in charge of moving picture demonstrations. He is supervisor of the exhibits. The committee arranging programs at the many towns along the route is composed of P. O. Nyhus and E. L. Luther, both of Dane county, and W. J. Clark of Portage county.

It is expected that Wm. Von Seng, cashier of the State Bank at Mosinee, will be the official representative of the Wisconsin Bankers' association, making the entire trip with the special and speaking of "The Relation of Banking to Farming."

A number of well known bankers will accompany the special through its Wisconsin journey. Among them are J. S. Healy, federal supervisor at Portage, and J. W. Davis, federal supervisor at Madison. Also, J. H. Pilsbury, state veterinarian; E. R. McIntyre, editor Wisconsin Farmer; and Leon Robbins, livestock editor of the Wisconsin Agriculturalist.

Wisconsin's Dairy Special is the first trans-continental demonstration train of its kind ever attempted. Besides the speakers, there is to be an exhibit section in the train to include 17 head of the finest Badger five major dairy breeds. The special had its inception in the visit of ex-Governor D. W. Davis to Idaho to the Badger state last winter when he addressed the mid-winter farmers' gathering at the Wisconsin College of Agriculture. The trip is being financed by the several dairy breed associations.

Commissioner Speaks
John Jones, newly appointed commissioner of agriculture in the state department of agriculture, is scheduled to give the special its official send-off with an address at the big dairy field day to be held at the C. A. Schroeder farm near West Bend on June 16.

The first stop of the Dairy Special will be at New London on Sunday, June 17, where inspirational services will be held. The local chairman of commerce, Matthew Knappstein, secretary, and A. W. Knott, county agent for Waupaca county, are cooperating in arranging the program. Dr. S. W. H. Hatt is chairman of the services.

Besides Hatt's remarks, an address will be given by Mrs. Nellie Keadle Jones. She will be followed by the program by D. Q. Granthill, one of Wisconsin's leading dairy apostles. The program is to be preceded by an appropriate band concert and community singing.

Monday, June 18, the Special will stop at Marshfield where a fine program has been arranged by the Chamber of Commerce and R. A. Peterson, agricultural agent for Wood county, W. J. Regan, Marathon county agent, and M. M. Knipfel, county agent in Clark county, are also assisting in the Marshfield event.

A demonstration will be given at this stop by George C. Humphrey, head of the animal husbandry department at the Wisconsin College of Agriculture.

On Tuesday, June 19, the trans-continental train will stop at Eau Claire where extensive preparations have been made by Arthur Hedenqvist, secretary of the association of commerce and formerly a prominent merchant in Madison, working with County Agent Leverich and G. R. Ingalls, formerly agricultural agent at Eau Claire county. The dairy demonstration and main talk at Eau Claire will be given by K. L. Hatch of the Wisconsin College of Agriculture.

Following the Eau Claire stop, the Special is scheduled to cross the border into Minnesota.

On the return journey several short sojourns will be made in Wyoming, Nebraska and Iowa.

Splendid Cattle Exhibit
One of the outstanding features of the Transcontinental Dairy Train will be the cattle exhibit. Great care has been exercised in the selection of these animals to combine individuality and production to exemplify a practical working type for the farmers of these western states.

The animals in the Holstein-Friesian group have been selected by the state breeders' association, J. L. Olmstead, secretary. Among the record grade cow with a cow testing association record, owned by D. W. Hucink, Sheboygan, heads this group. Among the Holsteins are also a high record purebred cow from Waushara county credited with over 1200 pounds of butter and 25,442 pounds of milk in a year; a high class cow from Washington county. A calf in the outfit is of particular interest because she is out of a heifer that won first prize at the Junior Livestock Exposition at Madison recently. The calf is owned and raised by the Jefferson county. A fifth animal in the Holstein class is a typical yearling bull from a Jefferson county herd.

The Guernsey exhibit was selected by a committee composed of A. W. Griswold, La Crosse county, Barney Sheridan, Fond du Lac county, and C. L. Hill of Rosendale. The exhibit is composed of five animals—a pure bred sire, a typical purebred cow, a grade cow with a cow testing association record of over 500 pounds fat, a typical calf for club work, and a bred heifer.

Other Cattle Breeds
Members of the Jersey group were picked by G. W. Vergent, secretary of the state Jersey Breeders' association. A bull, a heifer, and a cow have been chosen from a Jersey herd in Portage county that averaged over 500 pounds of fat for the year. In selecting these animals, Vergent has taken care to obtain a good, rugged type of Jersey, so popular in western climates.

MARKET HOGS TO REVIVE IN PRICE

Say Association Agents at Inter-County Duroc-Jersey Picnic.

Fork may be down to six cents but there was little optimism evident at the Rock, Watworth and Jefferson county picnic held at the Rock county farm on Thursday. There were more than 200 people from the three counties present enjoying the pleasant day and the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Cullen.

During the morning the Holstein and Duroc stock of the county farm, and several fine tame pigs brought to the farm by Alva MacKibb, were inspected.

During the noon hour the roasted Duroc was brought out to the long tables and with Archie Cullen and J. J. McCann, the long knives, all were given plenty of roast young pig.

Still Mortgage Banker
"I have been through many years of the ups and downs of the swine business," declared Robert Evans, Chicago, representing the American Duroc Record association. "Every severe drop of the market is followed by a increase and statistics show that 17 out of every 21 years have been profitable years to produce hogs."

"The present situation demands that breeders pull closer, raise better stock and pay more attention to raising larger litters. It all means to produce swine more efficiently." "I think there is more real promotion work and development going on in Rock county than in any other county I know of in the United States," said Joe Hucak, assistant secretary of the National Record association, Peoria, Ill. "Your pig club show herds, top-litters and futurity classes means a material benefit to every breeder and farmer raising Durocs for it eventually means a better market for better livestock. You must support your county association."

"One of the reasons why agriculture is backward and not holding its deserved place in business is because farm conditions have allowed the best brains of the country to leave the farm and devote their brains to other business. If agriculture could keep on the farm, these boys and girls that become leaders in commercial and industrial activities, there would be no worry about the success of farming."

S. D. Simms, Madison, College of Agriculture, warned farmers that the father to the thought, the truth is the republicans think the democratic party will not be a harmonious affair in the next campaign and that the candidate chosen will not have the united support of the party.

Whether this is because no one seems to be taking any lead in the democratic nomination or whether the split over the wet and dry issue will prevent the nomination of a strong enough candidate, is hard to say; but the republicans do expect the democratic to do the worst thing imaginable of the best thing. Such an explanation is logical, coming from republican sources, but at present it is clear that the democrats are disorganized and that a lot of work will have to be done before a crusading candidate, able to make a popular appeal not only to democrats but to the voters, will catch the imagination of the voters and detract from the Harding strength.

Prosperous Conditions
The other fundamental on which republican confidence just now is based is the prosperous condition of the country, and the high rates of wages being paid. Although it is argued that the West is not making things as going well, The West was the hottest of discontent last year, but reports reaching the White House would seem to indicate a steady improvement from that direction for Harding. These reports are hard to verify at this distance, and even President Harding, who has something of a political instinct himself, is not inclined to accept them at face value. He hopes to see and hear for himself on the western journey.

But if the work is intact, if the republican party is gaining west of the Mississippi instead of losing, the assumption among Mr. Harding's friends is that he will have a safe margin of electoral votes in 1934.

Battle for the West
So it's a battle for the west which indeed Mr. Harding is waging out next week to conquer and preserve for 1934, even though he may publicly and otherwise give the impression that he is not bent on political errands. Rumors that Mr. Harding may withdraw from the race if he finds sentiment adverse, and not subject his party to a defeat, permitting some one else to make the race, are traceable to the fact that those who would like to have some one else nominated. But Warren D. Harding is that kind of a party man who would willingly accept the verdict of a convention on that point. He has always felt that the party to which he belonged was bigger than any individual. There is, on the other hand, a good political reason for renouncing the question, no matter what his own beliefs may be about success in the final election. It is that any candidate would have to make the fight on the record of the Harding administration, and no one can speak about that record as authoritatively as Mr. Harding himself.

Can Undergo Changes
The political map of the country can undergo many changes 'twixt now and the national conventions which are to be held just a year from this month, but alignments frequently can be discerned and the trend of events traced even as early as this. Political soothsayers predicted the fall of the Taft regime immediately after the Winona speech made on a western trip before the election. Will the western trip yield any Winona speeches? Mr. Harding is carefully preparing every word in advance and going over all of it with an eye to the political past as well as the future.

KORSTS BACK FROM EUROPEAN TOUR

Battlefields of France, King Tut's Tomb, Among Interesting Places Visited.

Following a four months' tour of southern Europe and Egypt, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Korst, Clark street, returned to Janesville Thursday. They were accompanied home by their daughter, Bessie, who attended school the past year at Abbott Academy, Andover, Mass.

Leaving New York Feb. 10, Mr. and Mrs. Korst included in their itinerary practically all of the points of interest in southern Europe including the battle fields of France, the pyramids of Egypt, the tomb of King Tut, and the ruins of the ancient city of Carthage. They also visited the battlefields of World War I, the tomb of King Tut, and the ruins of the ancient city of Carthage.

While touring Egypt, Mr. and Mrs. Korst visited Mr. A. P. Lovejoy, Sr., Janesville, and her sister, Mrs. William Lovejoy, who is living in Cairo. On their return trip they visited Mrs. Mylius a sister of Mrs. Frank Blodgett of this city who was wintering at Lake Como in Switzerland.

Visit Tut's Tomb

Other points of interest on the trip visited were the Madeira Islands, the French colony of Algeria, Genoa, Naples, Rome, Athens, Constantinople, Alexandria, and Luxor. While in Luxor they inspected the world famous tomb of King Tut. The tomb's interior at the time the party visited was not open to the public. The tomb was closed some time in Paris, Brussels and cities in Holland. In London they attended the opening of a mammoth hospital dedicated to Queen Mary. They also spent one time in the island visiting relatives of Mrs. Korst.

Big Advertisers Make Ready for Business Gains

Business will be exceptionally good this fall and all large national advertisers will enlarge their appropriations to procure the bulk of the increase. The eastern prediction brought back to Janesville by Thomas G. Murphy, advertising manager of the Gazette, Mr. Murphy spent 10 days attending the convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World at Atlantic City. He spent several days in New York city.

He attended the convention as a member of the Newspaper Advertising Executives who hold five sessions discussing the problems of business. Development of foreign advertising accounts was a large part of matters considered.

While in New York, Mr. Murphy conferred with national advertising agencies and a number of the large national advertisers.

Concerns taking heavy space in newspapers throughout the nation will enlarge their quotas next fall in order to gather the bulk of the business in their respective lines, he said. The Gazette already has felt the improved condition. Mr. Murphy secured a number of new national advertising accounts which will appear in the Gazette within the next few months.

One of these new accounts was contracted by a concern of London, England.

END OF PRESENT SESSION IN SIGHT

Adjournment of Legislature Early in July Is Expected.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Madison—The end of the present session of the legislature is at hand, in sight, members were saying Friday. They expressed the belief that business can be cleaned up and adjournment taken during the first or second week in July.

At the bottom of the confidence that the legislature will be able to terminate its session within the next few weeks, is the report by Senator Henry Huber that all large appropriations bills will be reported to the floor before the end of the coming week. There also is a belief that the new compromise tax bill may get sufficient backing to get by both houses before the end of next week.

SHOWDOWN NEXT WEEK

Whether there will be revision of the state income tax law or whether the present statute is to stand, will be determined, legislative leaders say, before the end of June.

Senator Huber Friday declared the assembly would pass the Dubt tax law today and send it to the senate for action early next week. He said there would be an immediate showdown fight to settle once and for all the revenue controversy.

Highway Bills Soon

Highway bills will come up in the assembly next week. Passage of the gasoline tax and weight tax measures is predicted by lower house leaders, who express the opinion that the assembly will not waste a great deal of time in acting on the various measures, remaining for consideration.

FREE TICKETS TO APOLLO FOR THOSE KILLING 50 FLIES

If enough young people take advantage of the opportunity James Zanias, manager of the Apollo theater is offering, by the end of next week there will not be a fly alive in the city. Starting Monday, any child who takes 50 flies—dead or alive—in an envelope to the theater will obtain free admission to the motion picture or vaudeville there next week. The picture, "Driven," will be an interesting one for children, and just the thought of free admission to a show will spur many on to kill as many flies as possible.

While flies are perhaps not as plentiful just now as they will be late in August, now is the best time to kill them.

This is the only fly-killing contest of the year. The offer will hold good through Sunday night, June 24.

FREE TICKETS TO APOLLO FOR THOSE KILLING 50 FLIES

If enough young people take advantage of the opportunity James Zanias, manager of the Apollo theater is offering, by the end of next week there will not be a fly alive in the city. Starting Monday, any child who takes 50 flies—dead or alive—in an envelope to the theater will obtain free admission to the motion picture or vaudeville there next week. The picture, "Driven," will be an interesting one for children, and just the thought of free admission to a show will spur many on to kill as many flies as possible.

While flies are perhaps not as plentiful just now as they will be late in August, now is the best time to kill them.

This is the only fly-killing contest of the year. The offer will hold good through Sunday night, June 24.

300 ATTENDANCE AT ST. MARY'S PICNIC

Three hundred women and children attended the annual picnic of St. Mary's school, Thursday, at Riverside park. The children left the school at 9 a. m., accompanied by the mothers and members of the Parent-Teachers' association which arranged for the outing. Dinner was served at noon. Games, a baseball game and races, occupied the afternoon. Prizes were awarded in the various contests.

AID CELEBRATION, PLEA TO CITIZENS

Nelson Seeks Cooperation of Every Resident—Parade
Boosters Meet Tonight.

All Jansville people are called upon by Oscar N. Nelson, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, for their aid in making the Fourth of July celebration a great success.

Hundreds are needed as volunteers for parts in the pageant to be played on the nights of July 2 and 3. Hundreds are needed for the "None-Such Brothers" parade on the afternoon of the Fourth.

Is Monster Undertaking
Mr. Nelson says:
"July Fourth is only three weeks away. A monster celebration has been planned and now is in the making."

"Every citizen of Jansville who is proud of his city and who is willing to be anxious to take an active part in the celebration should be reached through organizations but there are thousands who cannot. We need men, women and children of all the ranks. We are badly in need of horses and wagons."

"We want every service man to volunteer his services for the pageant."

"What have you to suggest for the parade?"

Parker Employees Have Successful Picnic at Yost's

Perfect weather, a picnic grounds well suited for the occasion, and a program that kept everybody busy made the annual Parker Pen picnic at Yost's park Thursday a great success. More than 500 attended and enjoyed the out-door sports and dancing.

First big event after all the employees reached the grounds at 9 o'clock, was a ball game between the Parker Pen and the American Metals, won by the former, 5 to 4. Various smaller games were enjoyed from this time on until lunch-time, when all ate together. A band concert followed from 1 to 1:30, and from 1:30 to 2 o'clock, George S. Parker, head of the concern who has just returned from a three month's trip to South and Central America, told his employees about the trip. His talk was detailed, instructive and interesting.

Stunts were the order for the next hour, and prizes of pencils, pens and money made interest high. R. R. Neek and John Cullen won the wheelbarrow race; Miss M. Knoppe the throwing contest for girls; assembly department, the 10 of war; Miss Stella Brooge, girls' egg race; John Cullen, 50-yard dash; Miss Alden Stron, girls' ball-driving contest; Ronald Smith, boys' swimming contest; Miss L. Novaski, girls' 50-yard dash; factory girls' tug of war; A. Brown and D. Robbins, three-legged race; Roy Johns, boat race; American Metals, men's pole race; and D. Robbins, fat men's race.

Parker Pen orchestra provided music for dancing until 5:30, when winners of the following special prizes were announced: Lucky number prize, Walter Kelm; cash prize, Walter Kelm.

Inspector OK's New Box Seats for Local Fair

Approval of the structural plans for the addition of 150 boxes to handle the vast crowd expected at the Fourth of July Pageant and the Jansville fair was given Thursday by an inspector from the state building department at Madison. All concrete post foundations were completed Friday.

Each box will seat six persons, giving an increased capacity of 750. They will be stepped down, the approach being from the rear over a gangway. The front row will come up even with the wire fence flanking the mile track giving a splendid view of all activities. They will not be covered.

The old front entrances to the grandstand have been removed. Entrance hereafter will be from the side.
The work is being done by Boos, Ford and sons.

FINAL ISSUE OF SCHOOL PAPER OUT

Final issue of "The Reflector," high school weekly newspaper, is by far the best this group of students has put out. It is a 16-page edition and was to make its first appearance after class day exercises Thursday afternoon. It carries stories and pictures of events of the past semester, and will serve as an annual in the lack of the "Phoenix" this year. Copies at ten cents found a ready sale. The Balkan Powder Mill.

Just what is happening in Bulgaria at this time
is problematical. There is always a question as to how truthful the news is that comes from any Balkan capital and passes through official hands
with a corps of active censors and change artists
at work. But a few things are clear: the peasant dictator, Stambulsky, has been overthrown and is a fugitive. If captured he will be shot or otherwise executed by the militarists who have succeeded in the incipient revolution. Other peasants are too busy to go to war but will wait
until later when there will be more trouble; there always will be more trouble. Even as this is printed comes the news that Stambulsky has been killed. If so it merely gives a new angle to the conflict between military and peasant and stirs
up more hatred.

When the war closed Stambulsky, a peasant
himself, seized the reins of government, deposed Ferdinand, the king, who abdicated in favor of Boris, a son, since when, the King of Bulgaria has been like Humberto, of Italy, under the Fascisti
—and Mussolini, a mere rubber stamp.

Stambulsky was a dictator. He had been opposed to Bulgaria going to war on the side of Germany and it was the pro-German element which he threw out of office. He established a peasant government, sidetracked the military representatives, caused everyone in the nation to do a certain amount of manual labor, made many sweeping reforms, was friendly but no overly so
to the Lenin government in Russia, was not a red but rather of the green—which is the term
for the agrarian domination—and when any one got in the way Stambulsky quickly removed the disturber by execution, prison, or deportation.
What has happened in Bulgaria will happen in any nation at this time in history, when a man
seats himself above law and honor and right, in
the execution of a policy, no matter how altruistic
it may seem to be at first sight. Bulgaria needed
the renovation given it by Stambulsky but he went too far and too hard. To him there was no middle ground and mercy was not in his vocabulary.

What has happened in Bulgaria will happen
in Italy later. Signs of disintegration of the Fascisti are already apparent in revolts here and there against the iron dictation of Mussolini.
This opposition is no longer confined to the anarchist element and the communists, but comes from the ranks of this man who is the strongest Italy has known since the days of Garibaldi. The result—rebellion against dictation—is an inexor-
able penalty, impossible to evade. Once the military could overawe but now there are too many people who are thinking, to permit any man to automatically exercise powers which in some measure belong to the individuals making up the state.

In spite of the opposition of the Ku Klux Klan
and the socialists of Minneapolis, Mayor George E. Leach was re-elected Monday by a majority of 7,000 votes. Time for the Klux to take its cue for exit.

Legion Acts Against Moonshine.

Following the action of the Milwaukee city
council, when by unanimous vote it passed a resolution declaring for the repeal of the 18th amendment, the American Legion of Milwaukee county has adopted another resolution of a very different sort.

The traffic in moonshine winked at by official Milwaukee around the new government hospital
for the treatment of tubercular service men has led the Legion in Milwaukee to take action. Reciting that it is not the custom of the Legion to adopt resolutions of this character without taking
the matter up with national officials but the present situation is so grave as to merit immediate action, the Legion declares its utter opposition and most severe condemnation of moonshine traffic with ex-service men. We "will not tolerate" it and "will give every assistance" in wiping
it out, is a part of the declaration. They call upon every citizen of Milwaukee to give assistance to this war on moonshine traffic with ex-
service men in the hospital.

What effect will this appeal have on Milwaukee where a city council the previous night can adopt a resolution placing the metropolis along with Al Smith and the bootleggers?

An appeal made by the Legion in these words
and with all this earnestness should merit the
backing of all the law-abiding and decent people
of Milwaukee county, regardless of what the city council does or resolves upon.

Senator Borah takes the worry out of his end of the political campaign when he says he is not
for a third party and expects to see President Harding renominated. Also, Mr. Borah is of the opinion that the wet and dry issue will be paramount in the United States in 1924 and the world
court be sidetracked. It would be rather embarrassing for the democratic party with an endorsement of the League of Nations to oppose
a world court and with the division in the ranks
of both parties over the question of both the

THE LOBBYISTS AT LUNCH

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Washington.—At a certain club in this city
from twenty to fifty men sit down together for lunch every Monday and discuss the affairs of the government.

This particular discussion is no idle one. It is highly practical and significant. For the men who make up this luncheon club are the Washington representatives of great commercial, industrial and agricultural organizations and are
in Washington to lay before congress and the executive end the needs and desires of their several organizations, and of trying to influence the government to give their clients what they want. In a word, they are lobbyists. They are the "invisible government" you hear much about. About only there is nothing invisible about them. Some of these organizations have buildings here. All of them have large suites of offices. And they are no more inaudible than they are invisible.

On the contrary, every one of them is figuratively beating a tin pan all the time. Publicity is their favorite weapon. Nor is there anything essentially illegitimate about their work, as many members of congress would have you believe. It is no more illegitimate for a great business or organization to tell congress what it wants than it is for you to ask your congressman for a package of garden seeds, or to demand that he get your grandfather's Civil War pension raised. Of course, the great business organization may use
illegitimate methods, and so may you.

These representatives of organized industry
and commerce and agriculture have been here in Washington for a long time. But they have been much more numerous since the war than before, and they seem to become more numerous and influential all the time. Various political wisdoms have offered a plausible explanation for this fact. They point out that our representatives in congress no longer represent anything
definite. The old sectional divisions of interest in American politics have gone by the board. It is no longer the south against the north. But it is the manufacturers of both north and south
against labor of both north and south on many issues—immigration, for instance. It is the agriculturalists of all sections against the manufacturers of all sections on other issues.

Congressmen, generally, do not represent economic or social groups. They represent little patches of the earth, and most of those little patches contain pieces of all the groups. Some congressmen may represent almost wholly farmers, and others may be easily dominated by the manufacturing interests. But most of them represent so many things that they can not fairly represent any one thing, and their careers are
painful efforts at straddling, as anyone may observe for himself.

In this situation, it is natural that the economic groups should have organized, and should have sent their representatives to Washington to try to assert their several claims on congress by talking
with its members, appearing before its committees, and by other methods they can decide. That is why this fair land is check full of organizations, holding conventions, passing resolutions,
and why Washington is full of their representatives, many of whom draw three or four times
as much money as most congressmen, and know
three or four times as much. These organizations
are a real and growing factor in the government of the United States.

Now this luncheon club is the first real effort
to bring together the members of this extra-congressional government, and to have them to talk things over. That is why it is significant. For heretofore these gentlemen have gone each his separate way, urging each his claim upon congress, without regard for the many other and
conflicting claims that are being urged by others.
It is evident, that if duly authorized executive officers of all these groups could get together and industrial and farm organizations got together and voted on the great questions of the day, decided
what they wanted, and then demanded it of congress, they would constitute a real super-government. Congress could hardly refuse anything they all demanded, for they represent among them a very large part of all the property in the United States, and property is what runs this great republic.

This luncheon club is no such effective organization as that, but it may fairly be regarded as a step in that direction. It is composed, not of executive officers, but of Washington agents, who have only the power to act on instructions from headquarters. It takes no votes, passes no resolutions. But it does discuss all of the great questions of the day. It enables each man to see the other man's point-of-view, and so discovers
to all the possibilities of compromise and agreement.

Furthermore, this organization calls before it
the principal officers of the government, and gets
their views, and gives them an opportunity to get the views of the various organizations represented. Cabinet officers, senators, representatives, department heads, admirals of the navy and generals of the army, commercial attaches of
foreign legations have all addressed this luncheon
club on important topics. And after they have delivered their remarks, these gentlemen are subjected to close questioning. No reporters are present. It is said each man who speaks before
the club is presented with a list of its members,
and is informed that it is his duty to answer any question concerning any particular interest. The Washington representative of that interest is at his service.

"We are liaison officers between industry and government," one of the members explained. He might have added that each of these liaison officers has a club in his hand, that club being the amount of political influence which his organization is capable of exerting.

This luncheon club began with a few men representing large commercial and manufacturing interests. It is still small, but its membership has achieved one significant extension when
the Washington representatives of several farm organizations were invited to attend.

It appears no labor representative has as yet been invited to this unique luncheon club. There are some divisions of interest, which it would seem, even a good lunch can't bridge.

League and the court, there would be no common rallying ground for either party. Senator Borah's decision will be unpleasant news to the committee of 48 which had offered him something the committee did not possess—a third party nomination for president.

Arthur Brisbane says the "Kansas Industrial court was established to decide how much wages
should be paid to workmen of different kinds." Which is not correct. The Kansas Industrial court
was established for many purposes and still continues to function. And also the supreme court of the United States was upheld in a former decision, an act of the industrial body when it gave
support to the sentence of Alexander Howatt to jail.

The court was not established for wage-fixing. It has been and still will be an effective department of the state government of Kansas.
It has manifold duties to perform in reference
to industrial relations, most of which have nothing
at all to do with wages as Mr. Brisbane might discover were he to read the law.

Civil war in the Progressive party in Wisconsin
having broken out, there is a loud call for the Commander in chief to hasten to Ft. Madison and unhorse General Blaine, leader of the Last Ditchers.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

I could sell you the house and could sell you
the chairs,
I could sell you the pictures which hang on
the walls,
I could sell you the curtains and sell you the
stairs,
But you wouldn't catch their real beauty at
all.
You wouldn't see what I see in that chair.
The lost little girl who had once nestled there.

You wouldn't know as you looked at that scene
Of the sheep in the meadow, hung over the grate,
With the hills in the distance, the grass glowing green.

That it has a story that it could relate.
You'd never see the small fingerprints fair
Of the baby who loved every lamb that is there.

You'd never think as you climbed up the stairs,
Of the feet that had raced where you wearily
tread.
You'd never know that this small room was
theirs,
And this was their table, and this was their
bed.

These are things which you look at, just things
which you see.
But things which are freighted with beauty of
me.

They're picking the twelve greatest women,
The lists do not seem to agree.
They're asking us all to get in line.
They'd leave it to you and to me.
They'll never get that matter settled,
No, never at all in this life.

They'll not find the twelve greatest women
When every man has his wife.

Who's Who Today

PERCY ROCKEFELLER.

Percy Rockefeller, nephew of John D., breaks
into the limelight of publicity more infrequently
than any other member of the famous oil family, in all probability, despite the fact that he is one of the 10 richest men in the world.

Percy Rockefeller is a son of William, brother of John D. Percy was born in New York City, Feb. 27, 1878 and after he was graduated from Yale, class of 1900, entered
the oil business of his father
in New York.

By judicious handling of
the portion of the family
riches that were his he has become a financial power in his own name. He is now a director of the National City
bank of New York, the American International Corporation, the Midvale Steel and Ordnance Co., Western Union
Telegraph Co., Second National Bank, N. Y., Provident Land Association, Air Reduction Co., Atlantic Fruit Co., Reming-
ton Arms Co., and several other industrial companies.

He has always taken an interest in the work of the Y. M. C. A. boys and other philanthropic work, having founded the American Association
for the relief of French war orphans. He is an Episcopalian and a member of many exclusive
athletic and country clubs.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS

The Lake Wilson, Minn., Pilot had an interesting item recently. It is herewith reproduced:
"Last week the officials of the Chicago, St.
Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railroad made their annual inspection of the Pipestone branch. As the special train pulled out of the depot, the
we heard the remark, 'There goes a bunch of plutocrats.' Let's see about that plutocrat business. There was A. W. Trenholm, vice president; he stayed as a clerk in the St. Paul office.
John O'Neill, general manager, started his railroad career shoveling coal into an Omaha engine. J. R. Pechin, general superintendent used to brake for old Tom Sullivan on the Northwestern out of Tracy. C. H. McRae, the general passenger agent, started at the bottom of his office. J. J. Benthley, the superintendent of this division, started his railroad career as a funky in a little depot on the Omaha up in Wisconsin, and Roadmaster Donahue was born to the purple with a shovel in his hand and was for a time a section man on the St. Paul line.
Plutocrats they were, all of them, but plu-
tocrats of industry, hard work, efficiency and ability."

Most of the world's big men started as little
men. No other land under Heaven offers such possibilities to youth as our American States.
With nothing in America doesn't mean anything.
Where will you be and what will you be worth fifteen years from now? It's all left with yourself.

The world's greatest men, most of them anyway, came from modest homes. Only one great essential rule succeeds in America, and that is vision. Without vision the people perish.

LOOKING BACKWARD

FORTY YEARS AGO

June 15, 1883.—Because of the many changes
in non-commissioned officers of the United States Army and the many vacancies in the non-commission field, all the latter officers were declared
vacant and the following named: First through fifth sergeants, respectively, Frank Taylor, C. E.
Curtis, E. D. McGowan, G. Searcliff, Jr., and Stanley J. Smith.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

June 15, 1893.—Charles Whalen was on the stand in circuit court today, telling his own
story of the murder of the young Spaulding fellow at Portage. He claims his blows with the iron rod were in self defense only. As Spaulding had attacked him with a revolver,
Mrs. Andrew Burton drowned herself in the mill
pond at Evansville this morning.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

June 16, 1903.—John Gellman, foreign correspondent for the Parkersburg company, has received a cable from his native land of Serbia,
saying that he may hope to win back the estates he lost when he was exiled from that country for having won the displeasure of the queen. He says he does not intend to return to his native land.

TEN YEARS AGO

June 15, 1913.—William King and Joseph Kelley, arrested in Beloit yesterday and who pleaded guilty to robbing the Dr. Munn home
here recently, have each been given five year
sentences.—St. John's German Lutheran church will have fitting exercises tomorrow for laying
the cornerstone of the new church, Bluff street
and Peace court.

Personal Health Service

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Noted Physician and Author

COUGH IF YOU MUST BUT COUGH WITH CARE.
Among the queer notions I fondly
cherish is one that it pays to put considerable vim and pep in an ordinary sneeze, that is, when one hasn't any
acute disease of the nose or throat.
It is highly essential that the successful battle against tuberculosis,
notwithstanding the notion of "keeping away from doctors and medicines
and getting plenty of fresh air, good food and sunshine" are fortified and aided by coughing.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
Measles Myths.
My boy, aged three, has measles.
Doctors advised not to keep him in sunless room. I am following the doctor's directions, but all the mothers in
the neighborhood are horrified and
say I am committing a crime. (Mrs.
H.)

Answer.—The neighbors must have their innings. Let me give it will, in one ear and out the other, but keep on as your doctor directs. The answers I believe are correct. One with measles had to be kept in a dark
place and excessively warm and devoid of cold water and all that sort of thing. We can't blame the old-timers for what they didn't know, but the world moves and measles patients are getting reasonably intelligent cure
nowadays, as your doctor understands.

Dry Cleaning of Plungers.
Plungers are cleaned by the use of lead
acid on the bottom of plunger in fireproof machine. Article said "dry cleaning of plungers with such acids dis-
lodges lead acid which is inhaled as dust by workers to their detriment."
Does anyone brush plungers indoors,
and he laughs at me.

Answer.—The boys may laugh out
of the other side of his head and say
it does work to your detriment, too.

Girls May Play.
Whether a strong, healthy girl of
fourteen years is injured by playing basketball and baseball. (E. D.)

Answer.—Indoor baseball or outdoor play for girls, and basketball play
under girls' rules, are both fine games
for girls in their teens. Such games
will give girls in every way and do not injure.

Beauty.
A magazine recommended borax
tablets for use on the stomach and
said they would lessen the appetite.
I would like to know but I have such a terrible hunger. (Mrs. N. H.)

Answer.—Chronic poisoning by borax causes emaciation. There is a great roundabout way of lessening the appetite. It is always a harmful thing to use drugs or chemicals to diminish the appetite. Your appetite controls your life. It is hopeless to expect to reduce if you can get your appetite ever your appetite you can reduce. Glad to send you some rules to guide you. If you will send the $1.00,
and give your sex, height and weight.

Q. Where are the largest telescopes in the world? S. G. F.

A. The naval observatory says that the three largest telescopes are re-
flectors, the largest of which is at the Lick observatory. The means used to bring light to a focus. Mt. Wilson observatory has a mirror 100 inches in diam-

a 72 inches in diameter. The Lord Rosse telescope in Ireland,
which is still in existence although
not in use, has a silvered glass 72
inches in diameter. In a refracting lenses is used to bring light to a focus; the largest refractor is that at bourg still exists. It is an independent state. The present ruler is the Grand Duchess Charlotte. Its population is estimated at 263,524.

Q. Will spreading vipers bite
through boots? S. G. F.

A. The department of agriculture
says that contrary to the general belief that spreading vipers are very poisonous, they are classed as harmless serpents. It is said that they can hardly be forced to bite and when
handled they are found to be gentle.

Q. Please give some information about Syria as it is today. M. H.

A. Syria has a population of 3,000,000 square miles about the size of the state of Georgia, with a population of 3,000,000. It was made independent of Turkey and placed under a French mandate by the League of Nations in 1920.
For convenience of administration
France divided the country into four provinces—Aleppo, Latakia, Damascus, and Great Lebanon. The eastern part of the country is dry. Great Lebanon, however, is very fertile.
The population is largely Mohammedan.

Girl of Ghost Mountain

By J. ALLAN DUNN

Author of "A Man to His Mate," "Rimrock Trail," "The Man Trap."

Copyright by Small, Maynard and Company, and published by arrangement with McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE.

Mary Burrows, with a giant Swede girl, Thora, lives on the plateau on top of Ghost Mountain in Arizona. Peter Sheridan, New York lawyer with tuberculosis, has bought a ranch at Chico Mesa and is recovering his health. His inseparable companion is Red Jackson, foreman of the ranch. They rescue a Chinaman, Quong, from a clutch of bullies, a castor, a rustler. Peter finds a way to the ranch on top of the mountain and follows an attempt of the bad gang of Hollister to annoy the women. Red falls in love with Thora. Hollister, swearing revenge, kidnaps Mary and takes her to the Bonanza mine. On the way he drinks poison mesquite and goes blind, staggers off and is lost. Mary alone, is rescued later by Peter, who has ridden after her. Tales of marvelous girl in the canyon are told. Quong, who was once the keeper of a gambling house in San Francisco, reveals the location of the caves and the gold ready to be taken out. Sheridan and others form an expedition to go in search of the treasure.

Household Hints

The west was still west in the neighborhood of Chico Mesa. With such a treasure to uncover, the rule of "findings keepings" would hold good. Quong's knowledge of the secret would be no protection. There were plenty who would consider their claim as good as any white man's, much better than a Chin's. And there were men clever and unscrupulous enough, where such a sum was concerned, to tie up the whole expedition, to suggest or insist holding rights in the property, to throw the matter into the courts. Sheridan rode Goldie, the sorrel quite a ways from her lameness. Jackson, the horse that once was Hollister's, a dark bay that was beginning to respond to Red's gentling, a process that took up the hand of the cowboy. Quong rode in the wagon that carried the tools behind a lousy team, destined to haul back the gold—if they found it in two or more trips. One of the cowboys drove, the two others had their mounts.

A ton of gold would be hard hauling over the soft desert soil. Sheridan did not want to discount success by building too heavily upon it, but he had planned to divide the spoils, catching part of it and leaving a guard on it to take up the come back and get it. He had only one wagon on the ranch and he did not want to buy a new one, or borrow, to make any more than might start inquiry or arouse curiosity. Stoney planned a suggestion that they were out looking for a water supply for future irrigation. That he would miss on to any visitors to the Circle S.

They left the ranch while the stars were bright, long before the sun was up, and they crossed the hickroad before dawn and were skidding the range westward—towards their goal—when the sun rose. Quong had his camp-cooking outfit and provisions in the wagon with the tools. Sheridan planned to set up headquarters in Bonanza Canyon, where there was water and feed, and he had come prepared to stay a week. If necessary, Quong was still to act in his capacity as cook but there was a change manifest in his manner. Always sustaining dignity, he now emanated something more, not

Wave and Sheen

For any hair, quick and lasting

By Edna Wallace Hopper

My glorious hair with its fluff and gloss is envied by countless women. Most hair at my age is dull and dead while mine is like a curly-headed child's.

Naturally my hair is straight. If left untouched, it would appear lustreless and flat. But years ago French experts told me how to keep it curly. Later, other experts told me how to give it sheen. Then finally they combined these two effects in a liquid. I call my Hair Dress.

I apply it with a toothbrush or comb. When my hair was long, I then wrapped it on curlers, and the curl would remain for a week. Now, with bobbed hair, I either use curlers, or I simply comb the strands upward, and I get instant wave and sheen.

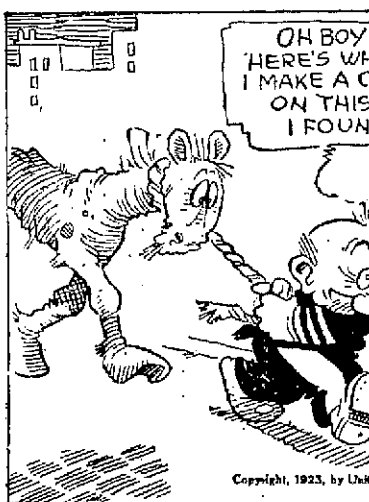

I have tried Hair Dress on countless friends on the stage and in society. To the straightest hair it gives a lasting curl. To the duldest hair it gives enduring gloss. So I mine can come to you, glowing hair like mine can come to you.

Now I offer you this tried-out method, the very means I long have used to get the hair which millions have admired.

My Hair Dress is a scientific product, based on lifetimes of hair study. It contains no grease, no oil. It was perfected by authorities who command respect. It abhors and avoids, as all women should, all the crude ways to beautify hair.

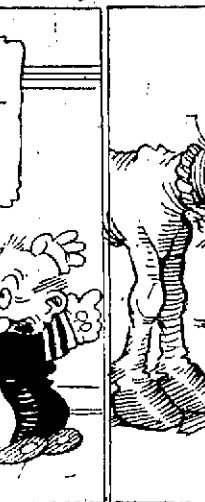

All toilet counters sell my Hair Dress under guarantee. If the first bottle fails to satisfy, they return your money. Go see what a change it makes in you. Ask for Edna Wallace Hopper's Hair Dress—price, 75 cents.

Heart and Home Problems

Letters May be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl in my teens. I have fallen in love with a fellow to whom I have never spoken. My girl friend speaks to him and to his brother, and every time she wants to give me an introduction to both of them something happens so that she cannot do so.

Will you please tell me how we can arrange for an introduction?

BIRDIE.

You are a very foolish girl to consider yourself in love with a man you have never met. You only think you love him, but you are worshipping a creature of your imagination.

Since you have tried for an introduction the young man is not interested, and therefore the wise thing for you to do is to learn to forget him.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a married woman and have a lady friend who is a widow. She is going with a man who has been married twice. We are very good friends and they would spend a lot of time and dinner with my husband and me.

She has had an operation and when she was in the hospital her friend came to let my husband and me know how she was getting along. He also asked us about her, whether she could go along with her husband, etc.

When she got out of the hospital they were married and the lady friend is that now they no longer have anything to do with my husband and me. When he asked me questions about my friend I told him only the best things about her, but she has had a woman I have always admired. She and her former husband were very happy together and she was an excellent housekeeper. I know that there was nothing I could do to have angered them. My husband and I called at their house one evening and both of them acted coolly. What would you advise me to do in this case?

You have done all you can do. Since you have said nothing to regret, try not to worry about the matter. Naturally it hurts you to lose such good friends, but you certainly are not to blame and the thing cannot be helped.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: How would you advise me about a skinny friend by diet, as I have tried that and it did not help.

FATTY NO. 3.

You did not diet consistently or long enough, and you would have had results. Get a book on the subject of calories and diet and if you follow the advice given you will most certainly lose in weight. In most books on diet the idea is a series of exercises given which will be a help in reducing.

You probably know about the exercises set to music. Many people find them very helpful and a lot of fun at the same time. If you have a violin you might try that method. I would advise, however, that your exercise and diet. It is useless to eat a lot of fattening food and think you can lose weight.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am going to attend a wedding soon. I will be in the evening. Do you think it would be proper to go without a wrap? Must I wear a hat, and if not, should I wear gloves?

MISS S.

Gloves are not much worn with evening dress nowadays, and you should not wear a hat, but a wrap would be almost a necessity for comfort as well as protect your gown. A

LARGE PORES

If the pores around your nostrils are invisible, you can congratulate yourself upon having a perfect skin. Very few people escape large nose pores; even small children with normally fine complexions have them. It is the first place where the skin goes faulty.

But it is possible to cure even this trouble. If the rest of the complexion needs attention, the ordinary face treatment will make these pores finer. If only this part is to be treated, it's most simple.

Steam the skin by wringing face cloths from hot water and holding them over the nose for five minutes. Wash with soap and water, and rub with cleansing cream if the pores are black. Rub with cool water, rub on a paste made of ordinary white laundry starch and cold water. Let it stay on all night, or for an hour or so while you do your housework. Rub off with cold water.

Or buy some oatmeal powder, which is coarse and mealy to the touch. Hold the cloth over the nose as before, moisten a little powder, and rub well into the skin. Wash off with hot water, and repeat. Rub with cool water, and then cold water, or rinse with cool water and spray a little astringent toilet vinegar over the skin.

Or use the blackhead cleansing powder whose virtues I often praise here. Wheat or corn starch, two ounces; powdered borax, one ounce; almond meal, one ounce, are the proportions.

It's drying or rather absorbent of grease and dirt, it rubs easily into the pores and washes out the evening.

are good for an oily or shiny nose—which means large pores are to come—and all of them can be done every day without harm.

Then the white of an egg, rubbed over the skin, will help, if the pores are cleaned thoroughly first. No astringent should ever be used on a dirty skin.

Unha—If dental work altered the shape of your mouth so it is no longer natural, the only remedy would seem to be in having corrections made. Consult a good dentist for the work.

Tessie T. P.—A dark circle around the mouth shows that the liver is very sluggish. The circles around eyes come from this same cause.

M. H. K.—I do not think that you could dye your own hair to look natural, especially since you must have a light shade. It would take a skilled person to dye it to any shade, but a light shade is almost impossible to attain.

Yes—Warm the tonic before applying to the roots of the hair, using a fine sable brush for the work. Saturday—Hints for Country Women

Dinner Stories

A balmer got out beyond her depth, and her screams soon brought to the rescue the balmer whose business it was to save anyone in difficulty. A few strokes carried him to the spot and he reached out a muscular arm to grip the poor girl, who was just about to sink. At this moment her frantic struggles dislodged her bathing cap, which soon floated away, carrying with it what was more precious, her wig.

"Oh, save my hair," she cried. Save my hair!"

"Madam," replied the gallant rescuer, hauling her into the boat, "I am only a life-saver—not a hair restorer."—Pittsburgh Courier.

The girl was very rich and the young man was poor. She liked him, says the Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph, but that was all, and he knew it.

"You are very wealthy," he remarked.

"Yes," she replied frankly. "I'm worth a half million dollars."

"And I am poor," he continued.

"Yes," she answered.

"Will you marry me?" he asked.

"No," with emphasis.

"I thought you wouldn't," he said.

"Then why did you ask me?"

"Oh just to see how a man feels when he loses a half million."

Better Health for Women

Any woman who will stop and consider the result of a questionaire recently sent out by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., will in all fairness admit the value of this old-fashioned root and herb medicine. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Fifty thousand replies were received, and 98 out of every 100 women stated they had been benefited or restored to health by its use. This means better health for American women. It will surely pay any woman who suffers from any ailment or weakness peculiar to her sex to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

I got relief right away. I had not eaten for 10 days and was as yellow as a gold piece. I could have lived only a few days but for this medicine. Janes Hold Hit Lead-Hagen Playing Fourth at Troon

HEFFERNAN KEEPS HOLD ON TOP ROW HELPED BY LAYOFF

Though they were idle last Sunday, the Janesville Boosters baseball team continues to retain the batting lead in the southern Wisconsin league. Averages to date were: Heffernan, .320; Decker, .282; Port Atkinson, .252; Edgerton, .232; Cambridge, .174.

Young Heffernan, the local recruit first baseman, still sits pretty on top of the pile of individuals. By being idle last week, the Boosters increased their lead by 25 points. Decker has jumped up in the second place in the team averages, having .244, while Port Atkinson dropped 57 points to .222 and third position.

Stoughton still stands fourth although the Hubs lost 20 points dropping to .223 from .243. By remaining idle because of rain, Cambridge dropped past Edgerton into fifth position. Perry's boys are just two points ahead of the Tobacco city, .176 to .174.

Heffernan of Janesville and O. Jerde of Stoughton are sitting neck and neck in the batting averages. Hayes of Cambridge came out of fourth position, passing Gess of the Port Robins, with a percentage of .558. Gess holds .277 points and now is in sixth place.

The race for batting honors is growing hotter. There are still two men with better than .500, only three men this week are .500 or better as against eight a week ago. As against three last week. Six are piling .500 or more compared with seven last week.

DOPE issued from the camp of Jack Dempsey out in Montana may be figured by those who are sending it as good publicity propaganda, but it is not meeting well with the general public. Stories have come out that Dempsey was given a grand KO by a negro sparring partner and then followed a denial. Fans everywhere took the stuff as bunk and writers sat down to their typewriters and ground out reams condemning the practice. Then coincidentally, one writer who actually remarked that there was a time when the two Jacks—Dempsey and Kearns—came weekly knocking at the doors of editorial sanctuaries begging publicity and it is not amiss to say such a condition may return some day.

THE FIGHT in the big leagues is developing into one of the most interesting in years. Teams that were not figured so very highly before the season opened are knocking the ra out of the clubs that were picked to have an easy time of it. The two New York clubs are leading their separate circuits but have hit a slight slump. That may be due to a natural lull in the season, but the confidence the other clubs are generating is not to be underestimated when considering what position the teams may hold when another third of the season has come and gone.

THE SOUTHERN Wisconsin baseball league has finished a quarter of its schedule. The sudden change in the standings last Sunday when Edgerton turned on Port Atkinson and put a knot into the battle for first place shows the fighting caliber of the league. Janesville has not done so well thus far but the wrecking ability of the bludgeons of the Boosters bodes ill for the other five clubs of the loop. The Janes are bound to get going and that soon. Edgerton's appearance here next Sunday should draw the biggest crowd of the season. The Tobacco city's position in the percentages and the fact that Janesville has not done so well in their previous meeting and then almost licked Port means a real game is due to be given the fans.

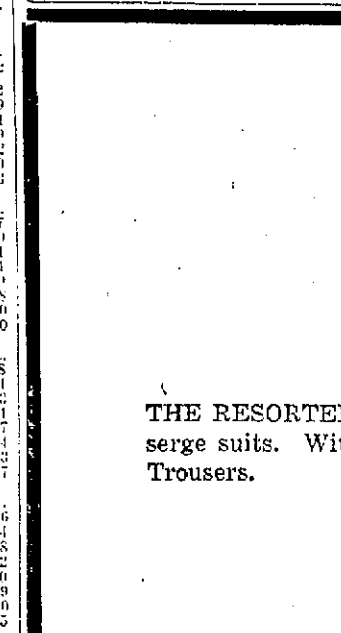

Nax Douglas, defeating H. Hivis, 7-5, 6-4, 6-2, became finalist in hard court tennis meet at Paris.

Cleveland Favorite Knits lost to Edmont Commercial high, 19-15.

Diamond Spunkies (By A. P.)—Athletes stand upon brink of first place in American league, having triumphed in opener of crucial series. "Rube" Walberg was star pitcher and batter in downing Cleveland 4-3, putting team 2 1/2 games ahead of Indians and within two of first place. Yankees faltered and lost to St. Louis, 3-1, while Hoyt pitched fairly good ball, but tactical errors and light batting of mates were too much dead weight to carry to victory. Detroit look advantage of Cleveland's loss and welcomed Boston 4-1. Helman league's leading batsman, did most of Tigers' slugging, getting three hits out of four opportunities, one homer. Chicago beat Washington, 7-5, starting new series. Pittsburgh passed up opportunity, falling before Philadelphia, 2-1, easiest team in either circuit. New York dropped second straight to Cincinnati, 6-5, using three pitchers. Cubs recovered and evened series with Brooklyn, 9-6, and once again are within striking distance of first division. Boston beat St. Louis, 6-4, and series stands even. Eddie Collins, White Sox star second sacker, stole another base and passed his last season's mark of 20, showing way to all major league base stealers. White Sox went wild on bases, piling six (ing one and Friberg making other sacks, Johnny Mostil leading with three. Cubs smashed four four-baggers against Dodgers. Farrell piling two, one with bags filed, State getting man on, which made it easy for Vic Aldridge to register win. Elliott, Cubs' new first baseman, got into game and felled well handling 12 chances without slip. O'Donnell, Cub backstop, in addition to bagging two homers, piled double and single. Jack Bentley driven off hill by Reds, while Eppa Rixey held Giants and handed them defeat. Rouse's single and Pinelli's double gave Reds victory.

All Hope Drops for Badger Win Over Westerners

Madison—Both the University of Washington and the University of Wisconsin crews were taking their final pulls over the two and one-half mile course here Friday, preparatory to their second annual race on Lake Mendota, to be held Saturday afternoon.

The western crew has displayed a strength that gives the Badgers little hope for a win. Wisconsin's only claim is that its eight will put up a good fight.

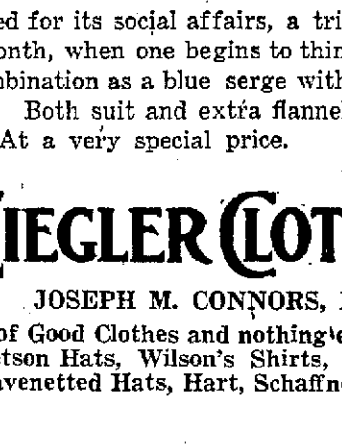

By shortening the course one-half mile, university authorities expect a faster and more interesting race. This will aid the Badger crewmen who have accustomed themselves to a shorter pull.

Washington has held the championship of the western coast for two consecutive years and counts on going undefeated to the Puget Sound regatta.

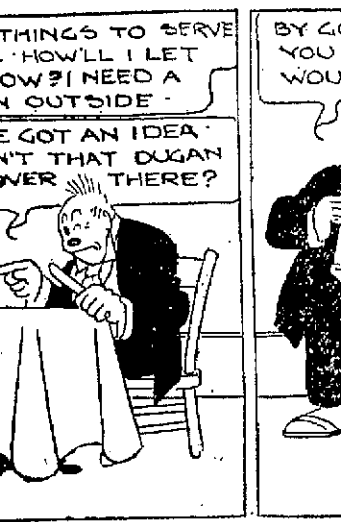

The crew will attempt to better its performance of second place made last year.

D. Dawson Hurt by Pitched Ball; Parkers Win, 5-4

Don Dawson was laid out cold for a half hour Thursday afternoon when he was hit by a pitched ball at the Parker Pen plant in a game in which Parkers defeated the American Metals, 5 to 4. Dawson, at bat, failed to dodge a curve ball hurled by Schiffelbein and was struck behind the right ear. He was taken to his home and put to bed with ice packs on his head. He was up again Friday. The penic was held at Yost's park.

Kirkwood Is One Count Behind Leading Havers

Troon, Scotland.—Walter Hagen, fighting hard to retain the British open golf championship title, stood fourth on the list of competitors at the start of the third round Friday. With 15 holes more to be played, Hagen was only two strokes behind the leader. The first five were: A. G. Havers, 210; Joe Kirkwood, 220; C. A. Whitcombe, 220; Walter Hagen, 221; MacDonald Smith, 222.

Britons were fearful Thursday night over the possibility that their lost open golf championship trophy is going to start back to America for the fourth successive season. Hagen is threatening in a most impressive way to do it again.

Thursday night, with half the struggle over, he stood one stroke behind the leader, two Britons being tied for first after a ragged morning.

If Hagen fails, there are two other who still have a chance to take the cup to America. One is the Australian champion, Joe Kirkwood, who now resides in the United States. The other is MacDonald Smith of California, running in fifth.

Kirkwood tied C. A. Whitcombe Friday in the third round and was one count behind Havers. But Whitcombe is not out. He was second last year and on Thursday morning began his shot so well he established a new course record of 70.

Hagen dropped slightly below the standard expected of him on Thursday. He was lucky to get 76 in the forenoon. When the afternoon round began he was six behind the young record smasher, but he gained all but one back.

Parkers vs. Banks on Friday Night

The local Parker Pens and the Banks will clash at the fair grounds Friday at 5:30 p. m. in a city industrial league baseball game.

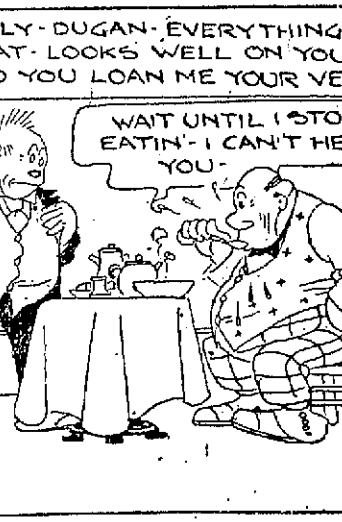

This will be the third game of the season for the money handlers. They are expected to give the Parkers a lesson in lucky curves.

On Saturday, two games are to be played. The Tanks meet the United Dairy team at the fair grounds at 2 p. m. The American Metals play the Black Hawks at the fair grounds at 4 p. m.

Gopher Boxing Bouts Shaking

St. Paul—Postponement of a proposed 15-round bout scheduled for Paul Snider on June 26 until a date in the middle of July, to be selected later, was announced by the promoters Friday. Inability of the construction company to complete new stands in time for the fight was given as the reason for halting temporarily a matter which threatens to shake the foundations of boxing in Minnesota.

MANY TEACHERS TO SUMMER SCHOOL

Others of High School Faculty Making Different Plans for Vacation.

A teaching position always becomes enviable about this time of the year, when labors of instructors draw to a close and a steady vacation of a solid 10 weeks is in prospect. Then the long nights of making papers, the strain of day after day teaching those who struggle against teaching, are all forgotten for the good times to come. For all, however, it is not a vacation. Some are improving themselves by attending summer school, thus giving them a better position and higher salary in the fall. Others find teaching positions or do work about home, making the summer a paying proposition.

For its change the vacation of Miss Edith Zander of the high school faculty, although it really is not a vacation for her. She teaches commercial work here and this summer will be one of the instructors at the Northern Trust company school in the Chicago loop. This school is made up of boys working for this concern who must, by state law, have so much schooling each week. Following a long period of teaching positions, she will go to the House association to act as a counselor. This latter will be her vacation, and she will return to this state in the fall to teach at Manitowish, near her home in Two Rivers.

Schutte to Marquette
A. G. Schutte and H. B. Wharfield, popular coaches of the past year, will see faraway, Mr. Schutte, who will go to Devils Lake, N. D., where he will enter the commercial field as proprietor of a store. In the fall he is to enter Marquette university. Mr. Wharfield's plans are incomplete, but he will first go to his home in Marshfield for a visit. He will not return to Janesville in the fall.

Miss Lenore John is to attend summer school at the University of Chicago, and will return in the fall to add to the popularity she gained this year. Miss Katherine Stimmer, whose home is in Madison, will have an interesting vacation. After a visit at home she and her parents will take a long motor trip to Ohio and southern states. She will return to the Janesville high school in the fall to continue her domestic science teaching work.

Miss Kieft Will Return
Miss Dorothy Kieft, also a Madison resident, will spend her vacation in that city. She plans to attend summer school at the university to increase her proficiency in girls' gymnastic work, which she has boasted here this year. Mrs. Florence Simonson, head of the English department, who left last year as Miss Babcock and returned with a "Mrs." before her name, will not return in the fall. She will remain here through much of the summer and will take a motor trip to Cumberland, her home, with Mr. Simonson. She is undecided whether to teach in the fall.

Miss Ruth Welinger, teacher of mathematics and junior class advisor, will go to her home in Aurora for a visit and may not return in the fall. Leon Battig, also in the "math" department, will attend the University of Wisconsin summer school, and may not return to the high school, where he has taught for several semesters.

Marriage Takes Two
Two marriages—possibly more—will make vacancies in the teaching staff. Miss Irene Bull, efficient librarian, is getting married next Tuesday, while Mrs. D. D. Van Wart, who was Miss Rutalia Drew, rushed through her exams only in time to get married. Other teachers grow less careful as the year approaches an end, and let a mysterious diamond see the light of day on a promising finger of the left hand. "A little bird told me" is the reason, doubtless, for other rumors. Bachelor teachers have less tendency along this line, seemingly, although their seeming neglect when asked about future plans may mean something.

Miss Florence Newman of the junior high school staff will go to her home in Lake Mills. She intends to return to her position here, as does Miss Greta Mason, who will visit at her home in Milwaukee.

Miss Rosella Willegala, head of the commercial department, plans to take commercial work at the University of Wisconsin during most of her vacation. She will teach in the fall, but as yet does not know just where. Miss E. May Clark will spend the summer at her home on Sinclair street, and John Arbuthnot, teacher of science, will also spend his vacation in the city, taking some motor trips as vacation.

Miss E. A. Voss, junior high teacher, will first go to his home in Milton, and from there will make numerous side trips in his car. Miss Jessie Menzies of the science department also plans to stay at her home near Mount Zion and take some trips. Miss Mabel Madden, a junior high instructor, will go to summer school at Madison and spend the rest of the time visiting friends and remaining at home here. Miss Caroline Zeininger and Miss Helen Taylor are now making plans for a trip to Yellowstone park in the latter's car.

Miss Mary Howard, Latin instructor, will go to her home at Lafayette, Ind., and will return in the fall. Miss Mildred Mandel, who heads the public speaking department, will spend most of the summer at her home in Elmhurst, Minn., and will return here in the fall.

House Party at Geneva
Several of the teachers will go on a house party at Lake Geneva early in the summer. The Misses Marie Hart, Josephine Jamieson, Bertha Mickelson, Lenore John and Christina McWay being among them. They have various plans for other parts of the summer.

During her three-year stay here Miss Hannah Morris has been one of the most popular teachers and her announcement that she will return has caused consternation. She will close up a busy semester Friday night, when the class she advises steps out of school for good. She will spend much of the summer at her home in Dodgeville, and has no further plans. B. S. Lamoreaux, who teaches manual training and is also a coach, will take work at the University of Wisconsin after spending the past two summers as playground director, and will return here in the fall.

Miss Herdis Hanson, music supervisor, will live in Madison during the summer and may take some special music instruction there. She will also work up plans for future work here, as she is returning. Miss Leila Veis, able head of the domestic science department, will have her vacation at Manitowish, Michigan, and various places in Minnesota, spending six weeks at the beach.

Dorrans and Jackson Busy
For two people at least, however, it will be a summer of work. L. E. Jackson, head of the architecture department, works the year round, according to his contract, and during the summer will make visits to boys taking this line of work, such as projects, and do other work along the same line as that he pursues during school. Mrs. Jackson, who has aided Miss Hanson in making music in the junior high school a great success, will remain here with her husband. The other hard worker is J. M. Dorraus, superintendent of the vocational school, who will be at his office practically all summer.

14 Boys Enroll for Y.M.C.A. Camps

Phantom lake and heaven are words almost synonymous to boys between 16 and 18 years of age, and the 14 boys who are to attend during Janesville's period this summer are the envy of others. Camp period for Janesville is August 3-15 when Ray Sowers will be camp manager, E. A. Lockwood will be general director, and C. E. Clough, boys' director at Janesville, will be assistant.

The boys now signed up to go from here are Wesley Euggs, William Snowers, Walter Anderson, Richard Munger, William Henke, Robert Hall, Donald Dady, William Oestreich, Robert Kimball, John Kimball, Warren and Earl Folk. Others are expected to sign, although Rotardale, to many boys, now takes the place of Phantom. Phantom lake, at Mukwonago, is the state Y. M. C. A. camp, under supervision of state authorities with leaders known all over the country. Camp Manitowish, farther north, is another state camp, and its distance appeals to some boys who are able to go. Those now signed are Franklin Wilcox, Robert O'Connell and John Matheson.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Editor Gazette:

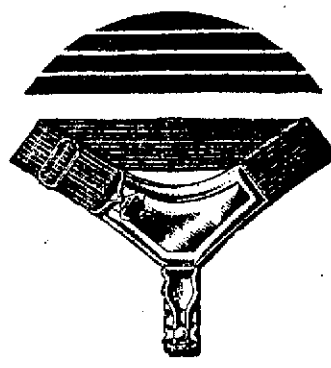

Let me call attention to the fact that the boys or the city are beginning their rough-house proceedings at the band concerts again as was evidenced by their actions on Wednesday evening when some smart aleck pulled the switch of the electric light connection thus leaving the band in darkness during a concert number. It has been noted that every season a gang of a dozen or 20 boys make it a point at every concert to chase through the crowd, yelling and pulling each other, spoiling the enjoyment of those who wish to hear the music, and endangering the safety of babies and younger children who may be in their pathway.

Now the writer has attended band concerts all over the country and he never saw such conditions tolerated as prevail in the local concerts. Last year he attended a concert given at an outlying park in Minneapolis, where everyone remained quiet listening to the music and wore as attentive and reverent as though the concert was given in auditorium. The writer believes the attitude of the parents is largely to blame for the rowdy performances of the boys. They should impress it upon their children that the concert means much in the way of hard work to the band boys, and is paid for by the citizens that the general public may enjoy the music, and that their rough play should be reserved for the playgrounds, and not for the concerts.

It is this spirit of lawlessness in the youngsters which leads to defiance of the authorities in later years in crap shooting, or bootlegging, or perhaps to anarchy and serious crimes. Respect for the rights of others should be early instilled into the youth of the country, and can best be begun right in our local affairs.

A husky policeman on the job, and a few warnings to the ringleaders would quench this lawlessness, and make our community concerts more enjoyable affairs, and safer for the little children who are in attendance. Pure fun can always be permitted, but when it degenerates into rudeness, and rowdiness, it is time to call a halt.

NEW GREENSTUFFS REACH LOCAL MART

Each Week Sees New Fruit or Vegetable Placed on Sale.

At this time of the year, every week sees some new fruit or vegetable in the market, and this week was unusual in this respect. As pineapples and grapefruit begin to pass out, the markets are flooded with new fruits—apricots, plums and new cherries, home-grown. In addition there are, of course, the fruits that started coming in about a week or two ago—cantaloupes, California cherries, strawberries, etc. The present is the season favored of nature, and apricots bring 15 cents by the dozen, are good-sized, and uniform in appearance and quality. Plums, from California, are slightly lower, bringing 12 cents. Pineapples at 25 cents are good, for the later the season becomes, the riper is the fruit. The season will soon be over, however. And grapefruit, to last a few more weeks, now brings in prices of two and three for a quarter. Some home-grown strawberries have started to come in, and prices are the same as for those from Iowa and Pennsylvania.

—25 and 25 cents per quart. It is doubtful if the price will go any lower.

Cantaloupes Sell Readily.

Cantaloupes, appearing for the first time last week, is finding a ready market for its lovers are almost as numerous as strawberry admirers.
